CultureBound

Tanzania Chapter

CultureBound's first Chapters training surpassed our expectations and excitement! This training was designed to be vision casting to bring the overall leadership of AICT (African Inland Churches of Tanzania) and its churches into expanding its outreach and equipping their missionaries with CultureBound training.

This training event was the first time in the 115-year history of AICT that all of the senior leaders gathered to consider their role in world mission. Present were about 20 AICT leaders plus another 25 missionaries and church leaders from local congregations. Dr. Mark Hedinger was the primary speaker, along with other speakers.

The CultureBound training included:

- Biblical view of missions
- Missions Today and what training is usually involved
- Culture and language training (Languages of Culture and Culture Tree)
- Preparing a mission training curriculum (Self-directed learning)

AICT is looking to CultureBound to help train their AICT mission trainers in culture and language who will then be the around the country. Also, AICT is creating a translation of Culture Learning, a book written by Dr. Mark Hedinger, into Swahili as a tool to accompany CultureBound's training.

This trip provided a powerful opportunity to see the impact of CultureBound's Chapters. The purpose of multiplying Gospel workers to the unreached was clearly in view. We praise God for the opportunity to witness His work among the AICT churches.
